AIMS AND SCOPE:
Education Economics serves as a forum for debate in all areas of the economics and management of education. Particular emphasis is given to the quantitative aspects of educational management which involve numerate disciplines such as economics and operational research. The content is of international appeal and is not limited to material of a technical nature. Applied work with clear policy implications is especially encouraged.

Abstracting and indexing services:
Education Economics is currently indexed in Educational Administration Abstracts, Educational Journal, Journal of Economic Literature, Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts Social Planning/Policy & Development Abstracts, Sociological Abstracts, International Bibliography of Periodical Literature (IBZ), Educational Research Abstracts, Higher Education Abstracts, Human Resources Abstracts and International Bibliography of the Social Sciences
